This historic building, almost beyond repair, was restored and updated to accommodate mixed-use opportunities in the Union Station Historic District. A mezzanine was added and the roof raised within the height of the original parapet to provide space for a small café within the flower/gift shop that now occupies the space.

This historic building was almost beyond repair.

merrittarch